

Show expertise, share experiences

Barco's solutions for experience centers

Show, don't tell.

Seeing is believing. That's the value of experience centers. And so smart companies are relying on creative experiences to make guests connect and interact with their brand in an educative, yet also entertaining, way. They know the power of remarkable storytelling and stunning content. Lifting the entire customer journey to a higher level.

Brand spokesperson

The experience center visit is an important phase in the customers' buying journeys. Potentially converting inspired visitors into actual customers, but also educating and training existing partners on the latest updates in your portfolio.

Think of your facilities as the ultimate brand spokesperson, increasing brand engagement by visually immersing prospective customers in your universe and creatively showcasing your innovative solutions.

Adding visualization to your experience center brings your corporate story to life with a unique interactive and personalized guest experience.

Show don't tell. That remains the key to leave a lasting impression.

Our Barco screen has been instrumental in making us not just a showroom, but a genuine Mercedes experience center.

Embark on a journey

Even if you're not tech-savvy, technology can still mean a lot for your business hospitality.

A video wall in your lobby with customized visuals to welcome your guests of the day. Displays that highlight your solutions with easy digestible information. And immersive projections to invite guests to embark on an interactive journey through your portfolio. Greet, inform, educate and inspire in the most successful way.

Only the best

Your brand deserves the best. Your experience center deserves state-of-the-art technology to support your creativity from vision to execution.

Only the most reliable technology and sustainable solutions can fittingly showcase your professionalism every day again, while also ensuring the lowest level of maintenance.

Versatile products allow you to transform and adapt your venue in a personalized story-telling canvas.

With Barco's visualization and processing portfolio you choose quality, consistency and flexibility. We let your products shine in inspiring and engaging customer journeys.
